WHO'S WHO IN THE CAST

JOE ALLEN-BLACK
 Web Strategist

Joe is overjoyed for his first opportunity to be on stage singing (sober) since he was in his award-winning high school show choir in the late 1990s. Since then he has hosted his own fan show about the television musical “Glee” and has made many appearances loudly singing show tunes at piano bars throughout New England. Joe joined Palantir in 2015 as a project manager and now is working as a web strategist, helping clients shape their sites and projects. This show is the way to bring together a few of his favorite things – time with Allison, Idina Menzel (prominent Broadway star), and sprint planning. Joe would like to thank his fellow Palantiri for being understanding as he finds ways to turn all problems into a reason to sing from musicals.

ALLISON MANLEY
 Account Manager

Allison joined Palantir in 2013 as a Project Manager after running her own Chicago-based design firm for many years, and after partnering several times with Palantir on projects. She sang in an a cappella group in college way back when it was not cool to do so, and nowadays really only sings at karaoke or in the car. She grew up on a television diet of MGM musicals, and is not ashamed to admit she can quote several of them from start to finish. Her favorite musical is “Guys and Dolls,” which has the best songs and lyrics ever, even if the plot is 100% ludicrous and suspect. She would like to thank Joe for sharing her love of Broadway. She’d also like to thank her other colleagues at Palantir who patiently suffer through her occasional random singing outbursts during video meetings.
